

Indoor banners

Attractive with light movement

Banners create atmosphere in a decorative and stylish way, and you can use them anywhere. They are a versatile and flexible means of communication; simply change them to introduce a theme or a different message.

Features

- Sharp printing — right down to the smallest detail
- All photo images are displayed to great effect
- Flame resistance in line with the most stringent EU standards
- Various finishing options
- Fabric can be 100% recycled for re-use.

Faber Flags Asia

What are the key properties for banners?

Printing result

Sharp and detailed prints are a must for effective banners, with full-colour photo images and rasters too. Using our experience and state-of-the-art printing technology, we guarantee a taut and powerful appearance — right down to the finest rasters.

Colours

Colours must be colourfast; after all, your appeal has its own special character. Using our colour management system, we can produce the colours you want.

Finishes

Finish is very important, which is why we offer dozens of sewing option with various types of hanging fitting. A separate leaflet details the most popular versions and sizes. Alternatively, you can consult our sales department for advice — they will be happy to help.

Fabric types

Every type of appeal needs its own fabric grade. Functional, soft, glossy, matt — we have twelve fabric types on offer.

Environmentally friendly

Our 100% polyester fabrics can be recycled for re-use in recycled polyester form. The dyes we use are water-based dyes, not solvent based (no VOC's) and do not contain any heavy metals or SVHC substances according to REACH regularitions.

Fire resistance

These days standards are high. We can treat your banners with a flame-retardant treatment in line with official and international EU fire safty standards. An official certificate can be supplied as proof that the banners have been treated.

Cost

Faber takes all the above into consideration to achieve the right balance between price and quality. And that applies to delivery times too. Ask us for a no-obligation quote and we'll prove it to you. Just make the comparison.

